-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings were received on May 19, 2004. These drawings are acceptable.

The Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The specification does not provide “brief description of drawings” and heading. Further, figure 5 is not described in the specification. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is indefinite in the recitation of “because it includes a system or process”. It is not clear that if an apparatus or a process is being claimed.

Claims 1-4 are incomplete and indefinite because it recite components but it is not clear that how these components are attached to each other and how these work for cleaning electrolytic cells.

Claim 5 is indefinite in the recitation “because it avoids the stages of cleaning” it is not clear how this process is performed and how it avoids the stages of cleaning.

Claim 5 is indefinite in the recitation “or, if possible” because it is not clear what is meant by this term.

Claim 5 is incomplete and confusing because it is not clear how the cleaning of electrolytic cell is performed. The applicant is advised to recite the claim limitations in positive steps which are performed during the cleaning process.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

- (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.
- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (c) he has abandoned the invention.
- (d) the invention was first patented or caused to be patented, or was the subject of an inventor's certificate, by the applicant or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country prior to the date of the application for patent in this country on an application for patent or inventor's certificate filed more than twelve months before the filing of the application in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
- (f) he did not himself invent the subject matter sought to be patented.
- (g) before the applicant's invention thereof the invention was made in this country by another who had not abandoned, suppressed, or concealed it. In determining priority of invention there shall be considered not only the respective dates of conception and reduction to practice of the invention, but also the reasonable diligence of one who was first to conceive and last to reduce to practice, from a time prior to conception by the other.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith et al.

Smith et al (3,259,557) disclose a method and apparatus for cleaning electrolytic cell by suctioning sludge and electrolyte solution from the bottom of the tank 28 with a valve 81 and pump 82 and re-circulate the electrolyte solution after passing through a filter 95 to the electrolytic cell 28 (see fig. 1 and col. 6, lines 34-75). Smith et al disclose all the limitations as claimed herein. Therefore, Smith et al anticipate the claimed apparatus and method.

Art Unit: 1746

The Prior art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Yznaga (3,691,048) discloses that it is common practice to remove sludge and slag heavier than the bath, from the bottom of the cell in order to maintain cell efficiency at a high level.

Kinosz et al (4,168,215) disclose a electrolytic cell in which a first port 10, extending through the lid 9 and roof 8, provides for insertion of a vacuum tapping tube down into the sump 4, through an internal passage for removing molten aluminum (see col. 2, lines 43-47).

Kump (5,094,739) disclose a method and apparatus for treating water in an electrolytic cell in which precipitates are collected in the bottom of the chamber and periodically removed.

Epner (4,863,580) discloses a waste metal extraction apparatus, which have sludge gate for removing any solids settled in the waste stream.

Worz et al (4,330,375) disclose a method of cleaning and removing sludge from the cathodes.
